Foreword

In the school year of 1942, a yearbook entitled "The Soldier" was published by the graduating class. It was the first in many years, and it gave a clear view of Stillwater Central School as it was then. The school consisted of one building — what is now the elementary building. The graduating class had twenty-six members.

The years have flown by, and Stillwater has run the gantlet of its growing pains. To make room for larger and larger classes, many children found themselves assigned to the Quade building, or the "Garage" building, or the church school wing of the United Church on their first day back to school.

Because of the need for more room and more modern facilities, Stillwater residents threw their support behind the building of a modern, split-level structure that would house the high school and the primary grades. It was the year 1956. Even with this new school building, the people of Stillwater knew they would eventually need even more space and began to prepare for that event.

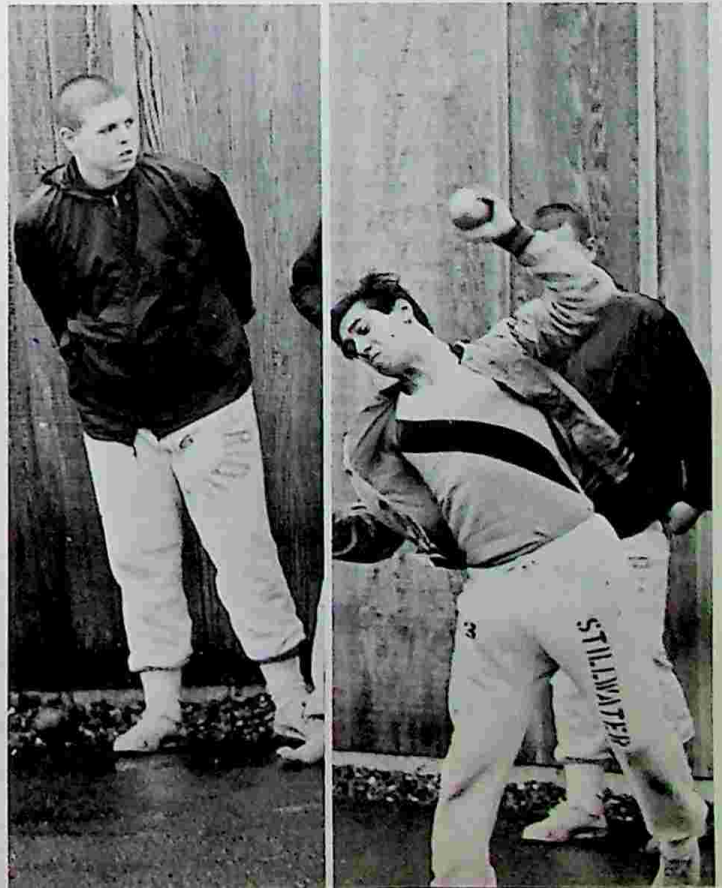

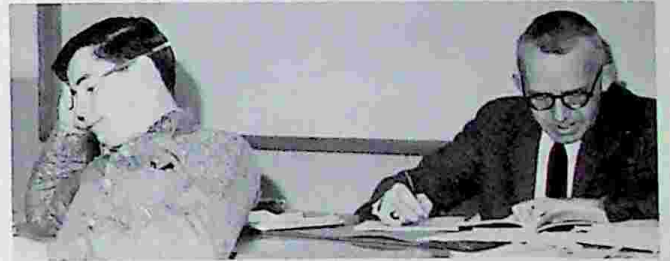

In 1965 the need became greater, and so the modern high school building is now in the process of growing again. It is hoped that in the early part of the 1967-68 school year, an addition that will increase the size of the present building will be completed. Plans for an atomic plant in the Stillwater area now bring the promise of better business opportunities and a greater population. The need for more room in our school will come again; and it will be met, as it has been met before.

Because the class of 1967 has spent its last year in the midst of the confusion and the infectious optimism of the prospect of a new and more spacious school, the theme of this year's WARRIOR is "Growth". Along with this goes our sincere appreciation for the concern and hard work of all those who have helped to make Stillwater Central School as it is today, and will be tomorrow.

Dedication

We, the Class of 1967, dedicate our yearbook to the people who have never lost faith in us.

They have stood by us in our defeats and helped us to our successes.

It is our privilege and pleasure to dedicate the 1967 WARRIOR to our parents.

Activities

National Honor Society

One of the most dramatic events of the year at Stillwater Central School is the assembly program sponsored by the National Honor Society. At this time new members are tapped from the senior and junior classes, and probationary members are named from the sophomore class. In order to be eligible for membership in the Society, seniors and juniors must maintain an average of 85%; sophomores are required to have an average of 90%. In addition to this, eligible students must be outstanding in Character, Leadership, and Service.

Secretarial Service Club

The members of the Secretarial Service Club put their skills in typing and other business practices to good use by contributing their services to such groups as the teachers, the Fire Department, and the Salvation Army. Their generosity is greatly appreciated by the members of the community.

Library Club

The Library Club is one of the service organizations of Stillwater that helps the librarian during school hours. They assist in many ways with all phases of work in our library, and help to make it an efficient study for all students.

Future Teachers of America

Clubs such as the FTA and FFA give students an insight into their future vocations by providing them with a sampling of what these careers are like.

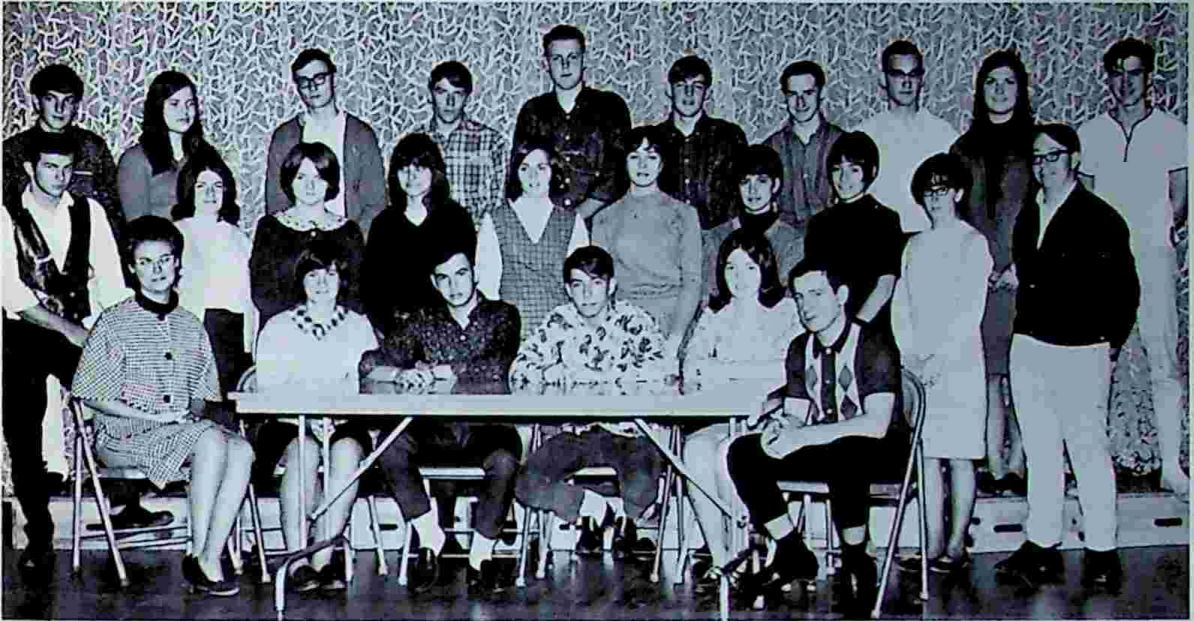

The FTA traditionally observes Teacher Recognition Day and participates in field trips to nearby universities. The members of the FFA follow a vocational agriculture program in their studies in school and sponsors such activities as Christmas tree sales, basketball games, and others.

Future Farmers of America

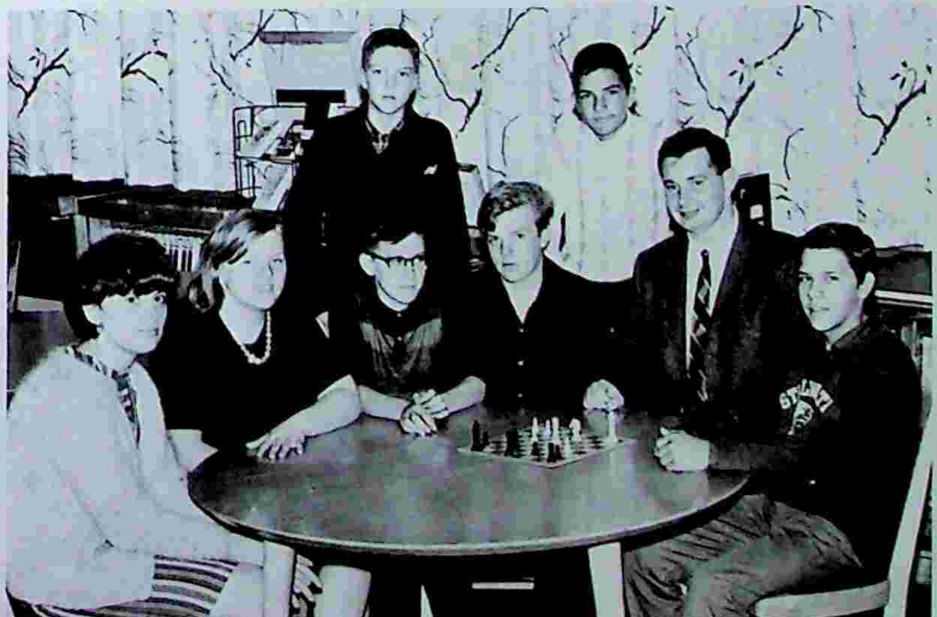

Math Club

The Math Club, a new organization at Stillwater this year, under the able guidance of Miss Blake, has already participated in such activities as: a trip to the Rennselaer County Junior Museum, helping check and correct figures for the new addition, and regular weekly meetings. More field trips and mathematical contests with other schools are being planned for the future.

Chess Club

The members of the Chess Club, and their advisor, Mr. O'Neill, spend many hours engaging in contests among themselves and other schools.

Washington Club

The Washington Club is an organization composed of all seniors who plan to attend the traditional field trip to our nation's capital. The trip itself is the result of many months of planning and fund-raising through such activities as the sale of candy, magazines, and greeting cards. This trip to Washington is always a memorable experience for all those who go.

Ski Club

A very popular activity at Stillwater, the Ski Club, has many members who enjoy weekly trips to a local ski area. The highlight of the year is an annual trip to Mount Snow in Vermont.

Sports

The "Warriors" didn't expect to be a top title threat, but they did eye the comeback trail. Injuries and lack of depth played a large role this year.

In the opener Stillwater led throughout the whole game, only to have Cambridge tie the game 13-13 in the final minutes. Stillwater's points came as Whalen took it over from the 2, Rourke made an extra point. Rourke also scored on a 3 yard run.

The following Saturday, the "Warriors" were defeated by a strong St. Peter's team, 25-6. Stillwater's only score came in the second quarter as Minick intercepted a pass and, with the help of some good blocks from his teammates, ran 80 yards for the touchdown.

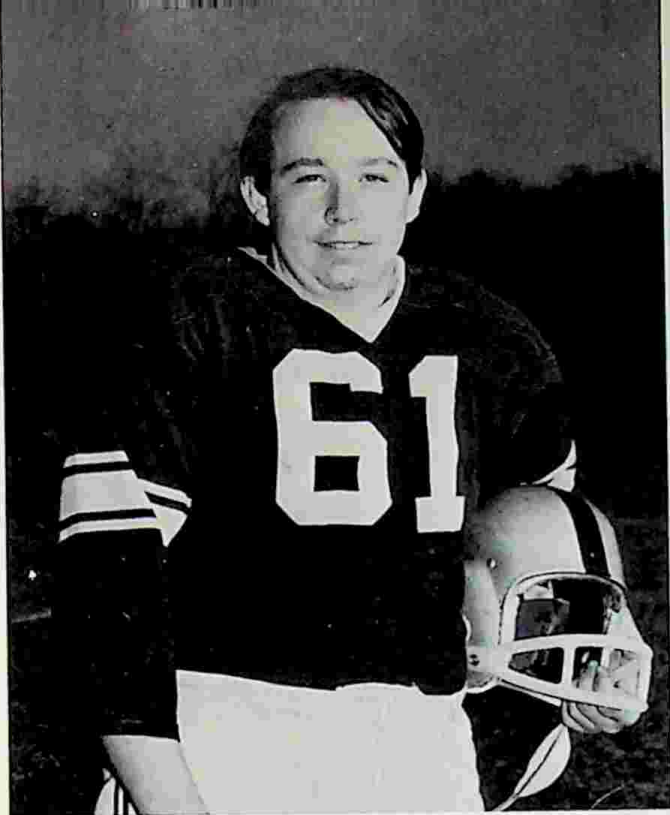

Against Greenwich, Stillwater battled to a 6-6 tie at the halftime, only to lose it in the second half 20-6. The Warrior touchdown came as Marshall threw an 11 yard pass to Minick.

Against Schuylerville, the "Warriors" led in the first quarter 7-0; but the "Horses" scored in the remaining 3 quarters to hand them a 20-7 defeat. Minick took a 35 yard pass from Whalen for the touchdown, and Carpenter scored the extra point.

The "Warriors" then traveled to Broadalbin, this time to be on the short end of a 19-7 score. Rourke scored the touchdown and C. Carpenter scored the extra point. The next week Stillwater lost to a tough Fort Edward team 31-6. Stillwater's touchdown came as Marshall threw a pass to Minick, who ran it in for the score.

Winding up the season, the "Warriors" hosted a strong Hoosick Falls team in a heart breaker, as a Warrior touchdown was called back enabling Hoosick Falls to win 24-21. Stillwater's score came as Minick skirted left end and with key blocks by Rivers, Carney, and Carpenter, ran for a touchdown. J. Carpenter added the extra point; then Drumm went for a touchdown. Minick took a pass from Marshall and ran 40 for another touchdown. C. Carpenter scored the extra point.

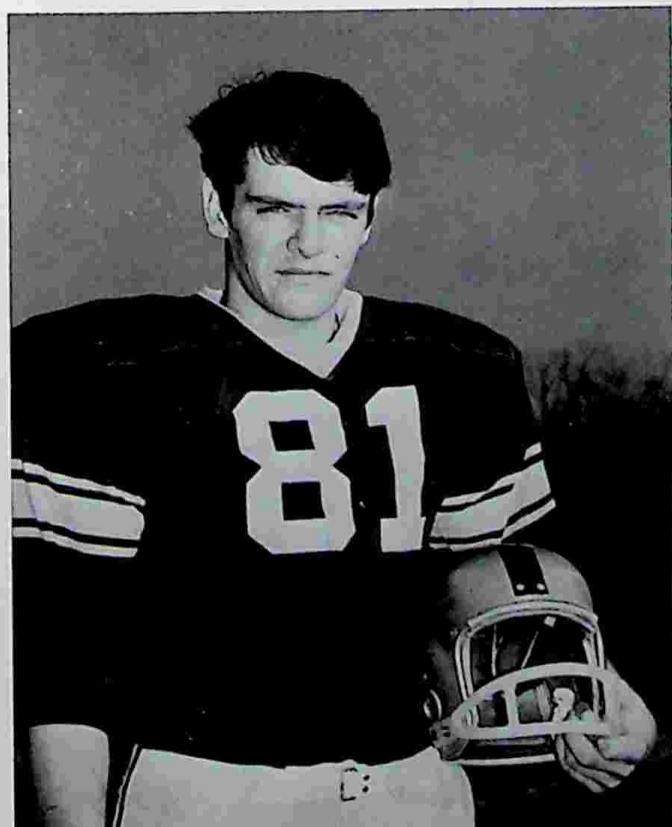

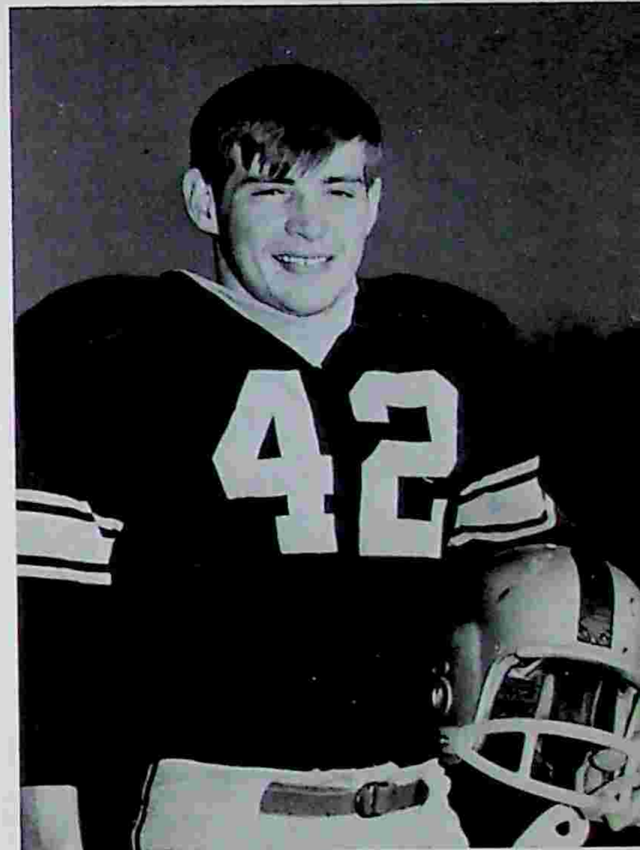

Things look good for next year's team as only three seniors are leaving.
