DEDICATION

*Our journey is now over, or is it?
The road is now divided.
Each of us will choose a different path,
Alone but still united.*

*Another journey will soon begin,
And it will start with fear.
But as we start traveling,
Our goals will become clear.*

*Even armed with our experiences over the years,
Our struggles will seem tiresome and long.
But we will overcome them in time,
Remembering our friends and the days that are gone.*

*There will be obstacles on the sides of the road,
They will be tempting and unknown.
We will look back for a familiar hand,
But have to do it on our own.*

*Now we must choose our road,
And you ask me, "Will I survive?"
Only with strength and determination,
And our memories of the days gone by.*

We sit here and wonder where our time has gone
We can reminisce on the unique times we've shared together
Nothing can take that away
We can only wonder what our future years have in store for us, and where this long road ends
What will we gain from our "Days Gone By?"
Questions linger and answers hide, minds turn to one another for guidance As grown adults we carry ourselves to our next struggle
And share the "Days Gone By."

CLASS COLOR: Dark Green

CLASS MOTTO: The "Class of change," that's what we are' striving only for the best and we've gotten this far. Leaving our mark through the past 13 years; knowing only too well it'll never disappear. We finally made it, together as a whole; working to reach our goal. To walk hand-in-hand, with our heads held high, across the stage to say good-bye. To tell the "Real World" they better prepare, because the Class of '95 will soon be there.

CLASS SONG: "Days Gone By" by Slaughter

It's so good to see you now

It's been so long since we've been together

You kept in touch somehow

You always found a way to be there

I wish that I could stop the hands of time between us

All the days gone by

Do you remember when we were the best of friends

All the days gone by

You know the memories never fade

As you're watchin all your days gone by

Lookin' back on younger years

That's what our hopes and dreams are made of

All the laughter and the tears

It's the feeling of love that makes us

I wish that I could stop the hands of time between us

All the days gone by

Do you remember when we were the best of friends

All the days gone by

You know the memories never fade

As you're watchin all your days go by

All of the feelings that we had before

But through the years ooh those were the times

Ooh yeah alright

The memories we share

You can't erase them from your mind

Those were the days gone by

You know the memories never fade

As you're watchin all your days go by

They go by, they go by, they go by, they go by

You know the memories never fade as you're watchin all your days go by . . .

*In the past 13 years, we've learned the importance of strength and friendship.
In that time we've put them together and made memories only we can cherish.
We were able to look past our differences and fulfill a common bond.
We share the desire to achieve, succeed, and dream.*

*The friendships we've built have brought us together as one.
We fought, we cried, and we even laughed.
Through it all we've stood tall and never quit.
We've helped each other through thick and thin, but never once gave in.*

*Although we don't know what tomorrow brings,
we know deep inside our hearts,
that we'll never forget the Days Gone By,
even when we are far apart.*

School

Walking down the halls, we remember being teased. We wanted to be seniors and have a car. Every year we wanted to do something different after school. Everyday we thought "if only I were older..." We thought life would be easy then. We wanted life to speed up and now we want it to slow down.

Days Gone By

UNDERCLASSMEN I

*We all must be young and new at things once in our complex life.
Being ignorant in such situations scares us in ways,
Ways impermeable to describe.
So all we wish for is to be older and wiser.
Then before you know it, it's gone.
Your adolescence has vanished with only memories of The Days Gone By.
Being young only on the inside,
Only in the heart is all that remains.
As time passes, we all move on, becoming our wishes.
And smart enough to know, when we come upon a wishing well,
And the penny is thoughtfully tossed through the stillness,
but hopeful air.
All we wish is but only one fantasy, To be young again . . .

REFLECTIONS

Homecoming queen and king standing under the spotlight.

*Spirit week in October
With faces painted maroon and white.*

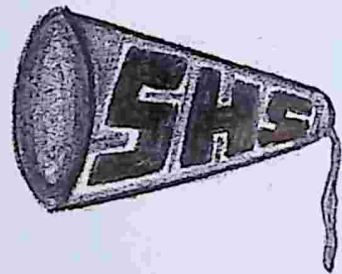

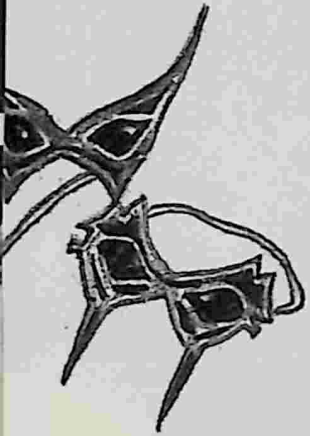

*At last the big game,
but who will win?*

Can there be any doubt as we chant Warriors again and again?

We dress up on Halloween in compliance with tradition.

And as the years go by we will smile with recollection.

GONE

BY

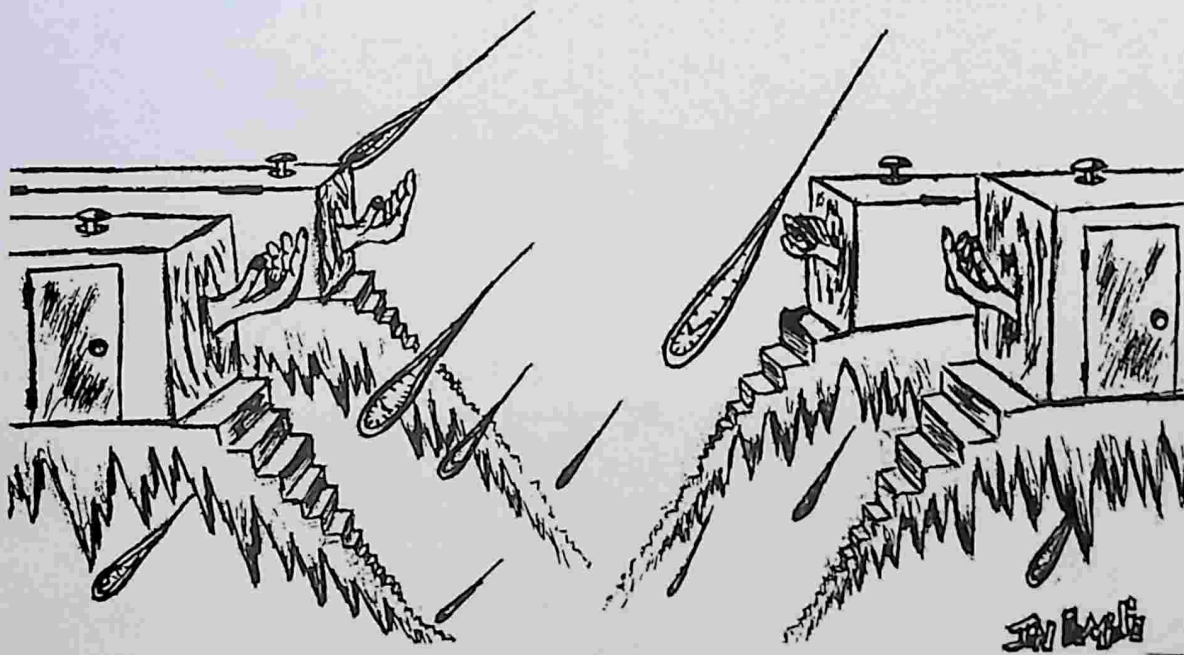

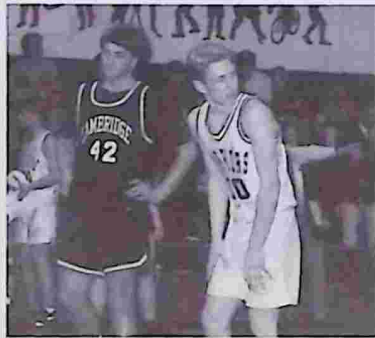

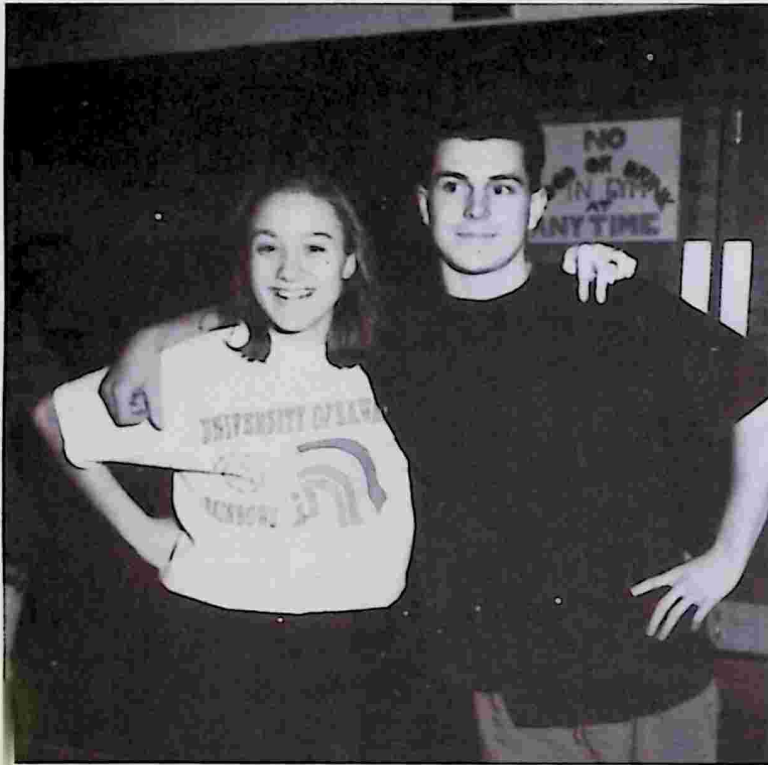

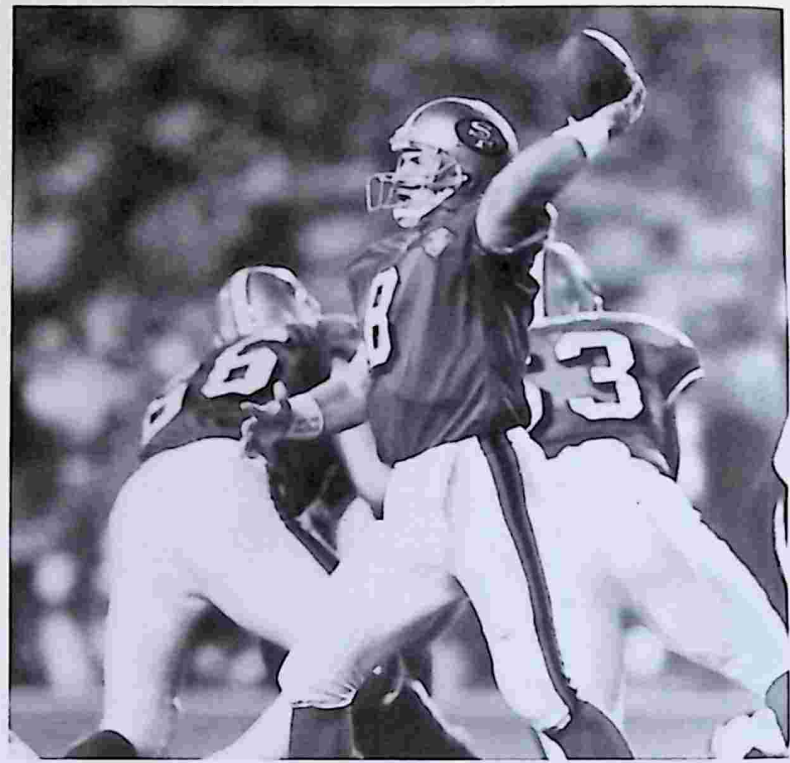

PATHWAYS

When we look back we realize how much spirit and laughter we brought to our school. The days we spent with friends sharing special moments will never fade from our memory. We may choose to separate ourselves from one another or we may stick together as we always have. Which ever path we choose to lead us, we know we'll never forget the past years And the memories which we have gained.

—Amy Taylor

SPORTS
94-95

*Five minutes until the big game begins,
We sit and hope that our coach puts us in.
We have the spirit to win
this game,
But even after a loss we still show no shame, Warrior Athletes always win in their hearts, That's the attitude we've been taught from the start.
Never forgetting a win, loss,
or tie,
We'll smile looking back on the days gone by.*

JV & Varsity Baseball

It's the bottom of the ninth, bases are loaded with 2 outs, the Warriors need 4 to win.

Just then Number 10 steps up to the plate, and the crowd is so quiet you could hear the drop of a pin.

The pitcher zooms the ball over the plate and then does it again, once more.

The count is now 0-2 with everyone watching, the players in the dugout start to chant and roar.

The batter turns and looks ready to swing, because he knows he's ready to play.

Then with a swing of the bat, the ball clears the fence, that Mighty Warrior has saved the day.

winning a game is definitely with dignity.

OUR TRIBUTE TO A FRIEND . . .

It was only yesterday that we meet, or at least that's how it seems,
but you've already changed our lives and helped us to realize our dreams.

Through yearbook deadlines and senior class meetings you've taught us to stick together, you've helped us to survive and for that we'll remember you forever.

But it's not only us you have given a helping hand, for the past 10 years your talents have been in demand.

As a teacher and advisor you showed us the way, and as our friend you taught us lifes' lessons day by day.

So now it is time for this chapter of our lives to come to an end,
and a new beginning is just around the bend.

But before we leave the tears will surely flow, as we walk down the halls it will be hard to go.

But when we do our heads will be held high,
as we remember you and our Days Gone By.

C. Peregrim, Asst. Editor and The Senior Planning Staff

They've educated us from beginning to end,
Knowing there was a goal to reach,
A desire to teach.
They've improved each one of us in a different way.

And will keep pushing students to more prosperous days.
For us it's farewell to the teachers we've stood by,
And hope in the "Real World" we'll use
What they've taught us and somehow survive.
